NEW QUESTION: 1

The Orders form, whose properties have not been changed from the default, has two non-base table text items to display the sales representative's first and last names.

You want to ensure that entries made in these Items correspond to an existing employee, so you write a When-Validate-Item trigger for the Sales_Rep_First_Name text item:

```
SELECT LAST_NAME Into :last_name FROM employees
WHERE first_name = :first_name;
EXCEPTION
```

```
WHEN NO_DATA_FOUND THEN
```

```
MESSAGE ('There is no sales rep by this name');
```

When you test the form and enter a first name that does not exist in the database, the message that you specified appears, but the cursor goes to the Sales_Rep_Last_Name item. You want the cursor to remain in the Sales_Rep__First Name item until a correct first name is entered.

Also, as you continue to test the form, at times, the cursor does not leave the Sales_Rep_First_Name item after you enter a name, but no error message appears.

Which two things can you do to correct these problems?

- A. Move the code to a form-level When-Validate-Item trigger.
- B. Change the form's validation Unit property to Record.
- C. Raise the TOO_MANY_ROWS exception.
- D. Write a When-Validate-Item trigger for the Sales_Rep_Last_Name item.
- E. Add code to handle the TOO_MANY_ROWS exception.
- F. Add the code to handle the FORM_TRIGGER_FAILURE exception.
- G. Code an On-Error trigger.
- H. Code an On-Message trigger.
- I. Raise the FORM_TRIGGER_FAILURE exception.

Answer: E,F

Explanation:

Explanation: A: FORM_TRIGGER_FAILURE Exception

Triggers fail only when one of the following occurs:

*An unhandled exception

*When you request the trigger to fail by raising the built-in exception FORM_TRIGGER_FAILURE

This exception is defined and handled by Forms Builder, beyond the visible trigger text that youwrite. You can raise this exception:

* In the executable part of a trigger, to skip remaining actions and fail the trigger

*In an exception handler, to fail the trigger after your own exception-handling actions have been obeyed. In either case, Forms Builder has its own exception handler for FORM_TRIGGER_FAILURE, which fails the trigger but does not cause an unhandled exception. This means that you can fail the trigger in a controlled manner.

C: When you use SELECT in a PL/SQL block, it's important to make sure that exactly one row will always be returned by your query. If more than one row is returned, the TOO_MANY_ROWS exception occurs.

Note 1: When-Validate-Item fires when Forms validates an item.

Note 2: The scope of a trigger is determined by its position in the form object hierarchy—that is, the type of object under which you create the trigger. There are three possible levels that answer the "What Level?" question in the slide graphic:

- * Form level: The trigger belongs to the form and can fire due to events across the entire form.
- * Block level: The trigger belongs to a block and can fire only when this block is the current block.
- * Item level: The trigger belongs to an individual item and can fire only when this item is the current item.

NEW QUESTION: 2

You have an Azure subscription named Subscription1. Subscription1 contains a virtual machine named VM1.

You install and configure a web server and a DNS server on VM1.

VM1 has the effective network security rules shown in the following exhibit.

Use the drop-down menus to select the answer choice that completes each statement based on the information presented in the graphic.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

Box 1:

Rule2 blocks ports 50-60, which includes port 53, the DNS port. Internet users can reach the Web server, since it uses port 80.

Box 2:

If Rule2 is removed internet users can reach the DNS server as well.

Note: Rules are processed in priority order, with lower numbers processed before higher numbers, because lower numbers have higher priority. Once traffic matches a rule, processing stops. As a result, any rules that exist with lower priorities (higher numbers) that have the same attributes as rules with higher priorities are not processed.
