NEW QUESTION: 2

You have a server named Server1 that has Exchange Server 2013 installed.

Users access their mailbox by using Microsoft Outlook 2010 and Outlook Web App.

You enable auditing for all of the mailboxes.

You need to identify when a mailbox is accessed by someone other than the owner of the mailbox.

What are two possible ways to achieve this goal? (Each correct answer presents a complete solution. Choose two.)

- A. Export the administrator audit log.
- B. Run an administrator role group report.
- C. Review the security event log.
- D. Run a non-owner mailbox access report.
- E. Export the mailbox audit log.

Answer: D,E

Explanation:

C: Use the Auditing tab to run reports or export entries from the mailbox audit log and the administrator audit log.

/ The mailbox audit log records whenever a mailbox is accessed by someone other than the person who owns the mailbox. This can help you determine who has accessed a mailbox and what they have done.

/ The administrator audit log records any action, based on a Windows PowerShell cmdlet, performed by an administrator. This can help you troubleshoot configuration issues or identify the cause of security- or compliance-related problems.

D: Run a Non-Owner Mailbox Access Report Use this report to find mailboxes that have been accessed by someone other than the person who owns the mailbox.

NEW QUESTION: 4

A XYZ security System Administrator is reviewing the network system log files.

He notes the following:

- Network log files are at 5 MB at 12:00 noon.

- At 14:00 hours, the log files at 3 MB.

What should he assume has happened and what should he do about the situation?

A. He should contact the attacker's ISP as soon as possible and have the connection disconnected.

B. He should disconnect from the Internet discontinue any further unauthorized use, because an attack has taken place.

C. He should run a file system check, because the Syslog server has a self correcting file system problem.

D. He should log the file size, and archive the information, because the router crashed.

E. He should log the event as suspicious activity, continue to investigate, and take further steps according to site security policy.

Answer: E

Explanation:

You should never assume a host has been compromised without verification. Typically, disconnecting a server is an extreme measure and should only be done when it is confirmed there is a compromise or the server contains such sensitive data that the loss of service outweighs the risk. Never assume that any administrator or automatic process is making changes to a system. Always investigate the root cause of the change on the system and follow your organizations security policy.
