Answer: B

NEW QUESTION: 3

Which backup method usually resets the archive bit on the files after they have been backed up?

A. Incremental backup method.

B. Partial backup method.

C. Tape backup method.

D. Differential backup method.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The incremental backup method usually resets the archive bit on the files after they have been backed up.

An Incremental Backup will backup all the files that have changed since the last Full Backup (the first time it is run after a full backup was previously completed) or after an Incremental Backup (for the second backup and subsequent backups) and sets the archive bit to 0. This type of backup take less time during the backup phase but it will take more time to restore.

The other answers are all incorrect choices.

The following backup types also exists:

Full Backup - All data are backed up. The archive bit is cleared, which means that it is set to 0.

Differential Backup - Backup the files that have been modified since the last Full Backup.

The archive bit does not change. Take more time while the backup phase is performed and take less time to restore.

NEW QUESTION: 4

You have a server named SQL1 that has SQL Server 2012 installed. SQL1 hosts a database named Database1.

Database1 contains a table named Table1. Table1 is partitioned across five filegroups based on the Date field.

The schema of Table1 is configured as shown in the following table.

Table1 contains the indexes shown in the following table.

You need to recommend an index strategy to maximize performance for the queries that consume the indexes available to Table1.

Which type of index storage should you recommend? To answer, drag the appropriate index storage type to the correct index in the answer area.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation

Index Storage Type

Designing a partitioned index independently (unaligned) of the base table can be useful in the following cases:

- The base table has not been partitioned.

- The index key is unique and it does not contain the partitioning column of the table.

- You want the base table to participate in collocated joins with more tables using different join columns.
