NEW QUESTION: 1

The proportion of Afro-American students enrolled in Gilmore Community College has increased over the past decades. This is partly shown by the fact that in 1965, only 6 percent of Afro-American between twenty and twenty-three in the town of Gilmore were enrolled in college, while in 1997, 13 percent of the Afro-Americans between twenty and twenty-three were enrolled in Gilmore Community College.

To evaluate the argument above, it would be most useful to compare 1965 and 1997 with regard to which of the following characteristics

- A. The non-Afro-American students between twenty and twenty-three who were enrolled in Gilmore Community College
- B. The percentage of Afro-American students who, after attending Gilmore Community College, entered highly paid professions
- C. The percentage of Afro-American students between twenty and twenty-three who were not enrolled in Gilmore Community College
- D. The percentage of -Afro-American students who graduated from high school
- E. The percentage of Afro-American students between twenty and twenty-thirty who graduated from Gilmore Community College

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

The best answer is D.

The argument presents a substantial increase in the proportion of Afro-Americans between twenty and twenty-three who were enrolled in Gilmore Community College as evidence that there was an increase in the proportion of Gilmore Community College students who were Afro-Americans. This evidence would lack force if a similar increase in college enrollment had occurred among students who are not Afro-American.
