You are the lead network designer hired by Service Provider XYZ to deploy CoS functionality on the core MPLS network (P routers). The goal of the network design is to provide a complete CoS solution to all customers that purchase services such as dedicated Internet access, MPLS L3VPN, and L2VPN (pseudowire). Service Provider XYZ has these design requirements:

- The network supports four service queues with equal treatment for delay, jitter, and packet loss.
- Queues are numbered 0-3, where 0 is the default queue.
- Three queues have one treatment.
- One queue has either one or two treatments.

If your design includes eight CoS queues on the Service Provider XYZ MPLS PE router ingress (CE facing) interface, how will customer traffic be classified as it enters the MLS P routers?

- A. The eight CoS queues in the MPLS P router are remapped to the eight CoS queues.
- B. Discard the traffic from the eight CoS queues that does not match the four CoS queues of the MPLS P routers.
- C. The 8 CoS queues in the MPLS P router are remapped to four 4 flow-label queues.
- D. Traffic is classified on the MPLS PE routers on core facing interface. The DSCP value is mapped into EXP field where multiple EXP settings (2+) will be assigned to a single queue throughout the MPLS P routers.

Network discovery is a network setting that affects whether your computer can see (find) other computers and devices on the network and whether other computers on the network can see your computer. By default, Windows Firewall blocks network discovery, but you can enable it. When we change the CorpWired connection to public, all networks will be in the Public profile. Enabling network discovery for the Public profile will enable the computers to see other computers on each network (including HotSpot).

To prevent network discovery on the HotSpot network, we can select No, don't turn on sharing or connect to devices for that network. This will disable Network discovery for the computer's connection to the HotSpot network.
